

Home Lovin' Man (easy)- Andy Williams

by Bundyboy

(Hummed intro)

D
The harbor lights were shining,
Em
the moon was at its high.
A
the captain said, "Thank God we're home!
D
we've drunk the barrels dry."
D
the mizzen mast was shakin',
Em
and the lanterns all burned low,
A
I never thought we'd make it
D
but we've twenty leagues to go
F#m
so blow you southern trades
Bm
and guide me safely to the shore,
E
i'm never ever gon--na sail
A (slowing)
the seven seas no more

(chorous)

D
I don't want to miss the sand in my hair,
F#m G
the roll of the tide and the salt in the air
Em A
but deep inside it's true ---
Em
I'm a home lovin' man
A D
comin' on home-- to you--
D
I don't want to miss the wind in my eyes,
F#m G
the shimmerin' light when the seagull flies
Em A
'though, I've travelled far--
Em
I'm a home loving man,
A D
and home is where you are---

D
the crowd upon the quayside
Em
their faces long and drawn

are suddenly awakened
D
as we sail in on the dawn
D
the wives, the sons, the lovers,
Em
who never gave up hope
A
all breathe a sigh together
D
as they reach to catch the rope
F#m
God bless you, southern trades,
Bm
you got me safely back this time
E
and you'll never have the need again
A (slowing)
to save this soul of mine

chorous x2 and fade
